Ha Lee Su Is it true?

After the 2 full years in National Junior College, LHL took only 3 subjects and scored 2As and a B, on the basis of which he was awarded the President's Scholarship as well as offered all the other top scholarships in the country. Nepotism, of course, with his father LKY pulling the strings since such result...

Our PM Lee is definitely a funny guy. Over the Chinese New Year weekend, his message to Singaporeans (working the longest hours in the world) was that our productivity is only 60-70% of what is possible.

Now its not that I don't agree with the man, but I'd think his message would carry a little more weight if only he led by example instead of his mouth.

If we need to increase our productivity by 40%, how about our PM increasing his productivity another 600%. Afterall Law Minister K Shanmugam has himself said that Singapore is only a city and not a country....
