Notes from today's Situation Update

PA alternate electors – The Epoch Times

A White House adviser, Stephen Miller, told Fox News on Monday morning that alternate groups of electors were being chosen in several states, claiming that it would lead to Trump's reelection.

According to the U.S. Code, when the House and Senate meet, they have to look into “all the certificates and papers purporting to be certificates of the electoral votes.” Several Republican members of Congress have said they would attempt to object to the counting of the Electoral College votes for a state, which would then trigger a series of debates and votes.

Miller told Fox News that the alternate electors' votes are designed to keep Trump's cases in court between Dec. 14 and January.

"That means that if we win these cases in the courts, that we can direct that the ultimate state of electors be certified. The state legislatures in Georgia, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, can do the same. And likewise, Congress has that opportunity as well to do the right thing," Miller said.

Epoch Times calls for Insurrection Act – The Epoch Times

Trump should use those powers as President to safeguard the future of our Republic and arrest those who have conspired to deprive people of their rights through election fraud. The Insurrection Act enables Trump to use the military to seize the key electoral evidence in contested states and deliver a transparent, accurate accounting of the vote.

Our system is in crisis. Trump should act to restore the rule of law.

Chinese President Xi Jinping called on his country's elite fighting troops to focus on "preparing for war" during an inspection of the People's Liberation Army Marine Corps on Tuesday.

Xi, who had ordered the restructuring of the marines as part of a national defense and armed forces reshuffle in 2017, recognised the troops as the "elite force for amphibious operations," according to Newsweek's translation of footage from Chinese state broadcaster CCTV.
